

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Speaks of Miss Ely's Wedding Today. She Tells of a Concert in Paris and Chats About the Norris Twins

TODAY'S bride will be Dorothy Ely, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Newbold, of 1111 Chestnut Hill, Pa. Her father is Herbert W. Warden, Jr. He will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Thomas' Church, White Marsh, where her parents also were married. She will have a lovely bride. There will be seven attendants at the wedding two maids of honor and five bridesmaids. Mr. Warden went to Princeton and was graduated in 1918, and the best man and most of the ushers are classmates of his. He and Dot are going abroad on their wedding trip. They will return when they come back the end of August, they will spend several weeks with some of his family at a camp in the Adirondacks before going to their own home at Haverford.

Tonight Lucia Warden, Herbert's sister and one of the maids of honor, will give a "Willow Grove party" for the bride. It will be given at the home of the bride's father, at 1111 Chestnut Hill. The other party tonight will be the dinner-dance which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter Baily will give at their country place at Stratford, Pa. The bride's bridesmaids are the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Radcliffe Furness. There will be about four hundred at the dance, most of them debutantes. "Cliff" will make her debut in the fall, too.

BILLY HEYL, the son of Mrs. Alexander T. Slade, of Wynnewood, and the grandson of Isaac Chrysler, has been living abroad for several years, studying music. He has an apartment near Paris, outside Versailles, and has been studying under Leo Tecktonius, an Italian-born teacher that he played at his apartment on the Boulevard Flaminio, Paris. Bill Heyl gave selections from Chopin and Debussy, and every one says he is awfully good.

At the tea some of the members of the Imperial Opera of Russia sang, too, and from all accounts it must have been quite a brilliant occasion. A great many distinguished people were there, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Boris, of Russia; Count D'Oldof, Viscount de Meurin, Lady Duff-Gordon and many others.

VIRGINIA AND LOUISE NORRIS, the twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Norris, are both coming out next winter, as you know. I saw them several days ago wearing good-looking blue tweed suits with hats to match and stockings of the same shade with black slippers. The twins are awfully nice and very popular. They graduated from Miss Irwin's this year and one of them got the "spoon" and the other the "plate." One prize is for being an all-round girl, and the other for something else, except that, as I understand it, the teachers only vote on the plate while the winner of the spoon is decided by the teachers and the girls.

Most people are never sure which is Gina and which is "Weezer." If that's the way to spell it, but Gina wears glasses, which is some help. They left yesterday for Cape May for the summer. They will come out in ten on Friday, November 10, and Dr. and Mrs. Norris will give a dance for them on Thanksgiving evening, too, I hear.

lilies of the valley. Miss Ethel Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Konrad, of 1511 North Thirty-third street, became the bride of Mr. Walter Gross, of Tioga. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white crepe trimmed with pearls and a lace veil arranged in a cap and fastened with lilies of the valley. Miss Mathilde Konrad, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Paul Gross, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. A reception followed the ceremony.
